

Talent: attraction statement

At Echez we are convinced that talent is as diverse and broad as each human being; each of these talents has a place in our company.

We are interested

in attracting and developing an integral human talent; agile, relational, and passionate people for service and technology, who work collaboratively in line with the strategy of our organization.

We love
that our people always want to learn,

because we are sure that the transformation of clients, businesses and ourselves go hand in hand with knowledge.

Our selection processes are inclusive, diverse; also, agile, and digital.

For which we are prepared to provide you quick and timely answers regarding the process of this.

We expect total openness, disposition, and transparency from you. Remember that this is ultimately a two-way selection process.
